Subject: Important Update: Mexican Supply Constraints and Force Majeure Notice

Dear Buyers Edge Team,

I am writing to inform you of significant supply constraints affecting fruit sourced from Mexico and to formally notify you of a force majeure event under our supply agreement.

Mexican fruit supply is currently subject to severe restrictions outside Westfalia's control. These restrictions are materially affecting the volume available from Mexico which could not have been foreseen or avoided through commercially reasonable means.

We anticipate delays and reduced fulfilment on Mexican-sourced orders. Your account team will work very closely with specific orders and provide a tailored impact assessment.

Our global sourcing teams are actively redirecting volume from Peru, Colombia, and California to maintain continuity wherever possible, and we are engaging spot markets to supplement.

Upon resolution of the supply situation, we will provide a written notice that the force majeure event has ended.

Thank you for your patience and partnership,

Sincerely,
